BEAUTIFUL PLAY NOW AT THE CRYSTAL TODAY-TOMORROW

The businesslike manner in which every movement and dialogue is popular business and the business-like qualities he needs in a stenographer are illustrated in an interesting manner in the play "My Lady's Slipper" the latest drama story to be put into production in the Vitaphone company.

"I have dictated more than a million words," said Dr. Brady, "in my long career as author, presider, lecturer, publisher I have always made use of a private secretary who is also a stenographer, and I have found that about one in ten has the necessary qualifications to fit a writer in his work."

It was an interested spectator during the taking of notes of the scene in the Vitaphone production of "My Lady's Slipper" (continued Dr. Brady) "and feel that Ralph W. Day, who is directing the comedy, has caught its spirit. In his instructions to the members of his clever cast that includes Anita Stewart, Jack Williams, Julia Swaine Gordon, Bill Shea, Harry Northrup, George Stevens, George O'Donnell and Joseph Klinger, he has insisted on their paying every attention to the manners and customs of the Louis XVI period and personally supervises the construction and setting of all the scenes. When "My Lady's Slipper" is ready for the screen, it will, to my mind, be one of the most interesting of my stories the Vitaphone company will have produced and Anita Stewart, as Countess Villars, the daintiest countess who ever lost a slipper."

Crystal today and tomorrow, matinees at 2 and 3:30, nights, 7:30 and 9:00.

HUSBAND AND WIFE AT PASTIME TODAY ONLY
A strong dramatic play written by Charles Kenyon, author of "Kuddling" and given its premiere at the 48th Street Theater, New York, where the newspapers pronounced it one of the most extraordinary plays of modern times, with a strong and appealing moral, all in all, one of the few domestic dramas which met the undivided approval of the metropolitan newspaper critics. Staged under William E. Brady's supervision, it has now been made into a motion picture, also under Mr. Brady's critical eye.
The picture marks the first of the highly alliterative casts, which includes Ethel Clayton, Holbrook Blynn, Emmett Corrigan, Gerda Holmes, Montague Love, Thon Titho-edge and Lillian Midge. Hylan.
At the Pastime Theater today only.
A square meal will do you good. Try it. Hubbard, Bruce boarding house, 706 South High. Phone 1999W.
